Warburton Replaces Lewis Smith As Grossmont H.S. Superintendent

Smith To Assume New District Duties July 1

Dr. John T. Warburton was appointed district superintendent of the Grossmont Union High School District by the governing board on Monday evening, to be effective July 1, following an executive session. Action came after consideration of a request for transfer of assignment by Superintendent Lewis F. Smith. Smith termed the action to be in the interest of the District and of himself personally and indicated that the availability of highly capable leadership in the district was a factor in his request for transfer. He expressed appreciation to the board for the consideration they have shown the administration and for their effective support of the educational program. Other district administrators, including Harold G. Hughes, associate superintendent of the high school district and superintendent of the junior college district, and Leon M. Lessinger, assistant superintendent, expressed their complete agreement with the action of the governing board. The board, in accepting Smith's request for transfer, indicated regret and appreciation for his years of service as superintendent since September, 1944.

Asks Transfer

Smith's letter to the Board read:

After much consideration, I have come to a decision that I must request a transfer to another assignment effective at the end of this school year.

It is my firm conviction that top level leadership is readily available in the district administrative staff, able to keep the Grossmon District program moving ahead effectively toward a higher quality education.

Coupled with this conviction is a belief that one should withdraw to a less important position before the loss in resiliency and effectiveness from wear and tear becomes too detrimental to the district or to the individual's peace of mind. Mine has been a rewarding experience but now appears to be a time for change.

Served 20 Years

It has been a great privilege to have served in such a fine community and to have worked with and enjoyed for 20 years the support of the Grossmont Governing Board. You have been patient and considerate in your dealings with your administrators. For this I am deeply appreciative.

I desire to remain in the service of the District, the Board and the new superintendent willing and thereby continue a cherished association with the Board, my colleagues, students, parents, and the people of the community.

It is suggested that any release of information concerning this request should come from the Governing Board at a time which it considers most appropriate. It is hoped this could be now or at an early date.

Respectfully,
LEWIS F. SMITH

Warburton, following his appointment said: "In looking at the job ahead, I also look back and find that whatever I bring to the task is an outgrowth of my association with Lew Smith. His work is more than a job to him and what he has given to this community in the last twenty years can never be measured." Dr. Warburton is now assistant superintendent in charge of instruction.

Started In 1947

Dr. Warburton came to the district in 1947 when he taught history at Grossmont High School and served as advisor to its Associated Student Body. During those years, Dr. Warburton's efforts earned for Grossmont the Freedom Foundation Award at Valley Forge. In 1951 when Helix High School was opened, Warburton was vice principal, a post he held until 1954 when he took leave to do advanced study toward the doctor's degree at the University of California at Los Angeles. He returned to a position as principal of Grossmont in September of 1955, and in 1958-59 received the Principal of the Year Award from the Arthur Croft Publishing Company.

Then, in 1959, the Board appointed Dr. Warburton assistant superintendent. He has worked in curriculum development, set up experiments in new teaching techniques, and organized in-

Men's Club Hears Talk On Smog Control Laws

Some foggy questions about vehicle anti-smog devices were cleared up Friday when California Highway Patrolman John Annis spoke at a meeting of the Lemon Grove Men's Club.

The questions about the smog devices were promped by a new state law requiring smog control devices on most vehicles by the end of 1965.

"These smog laws are new and have caused some consternation," Annis said.

The new legislation applies to both private automobiles and commercial vehicles.

Annis gave the schedule the state will follow in setting deadlines for the installation of the control devices in vehicles.

Commercial vehicles must have the devices installed this year, he said.

The month by which the devices must be installed will be determined by the final digit of the license plates. Licenses ending with the number 1 would call for a January installation. February would be the month for licenses ending in 2 and so on.

Passenger cars will follow the same schedule in 1965.

"Although the new law is already in effect, enforcement action will not start until about April 1 of this year, Annis said.

Not all cars in California will be required to have the devices.

Annis said some of the cars exempted from the law are cars manufactured before 1960, most foreign cars, motorcycles and some highway construction vehicles.

It was also pointed out that State owned cars are exempted from the law.

"The present legislation is for crank case ventilation only. All they are doing is getting the fumes out of the crank case and burning them," Annis said.

He said they would not cause a change in mileage.

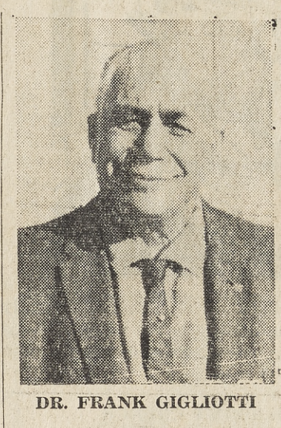

The law says you can install your own device and have it inspected but the device must be of an approved type and homemade devices are not allowed.

The average installation price is expected to be between $12 and $18 for most cars. The annual inspections required by law will run about $1 or $1.50.

Most new car dealers and many filling stations in this area have been licensed to install the devices and inspect them, Annis said.

Additional information can be obtained by calling the highway patrol office at 283-6331.

The speaker Friday will be Glenn Kendall, La Mesa city manager. Kendall will discuss incorporation a viewed from a city manager's point of view. Kendall was assistant to the manager when Downey was incorporated to become the largest area in the state to form a city. He was also assistant city manager of Santa Maria and Santa Cruz.

DR. FRANK GIGLIOTTI

State, National Awards Given To Local Couple

Dual honors came to a Lemon Grove couple this week when Dr. and Mrs. Frank Gigliotti became recipients of recognition for outstanding effort.

Mrs. Gigliotti was listed in Who's Who in America, a book in which are published the names and backgrounds of notable Americans. She was cited for her poetry.

Her poems have been published in religious magazines since 1924.

Dr. Cigliotti was named one of sixteen distinguished Californians to serve on Governor Brown's Human Relations Commission. He signed his commission Friday. Gigliotti served on the state's first race relations commission under State Sen. Ed Fletcher from 1937 to 1939.

Mrs. Gigliotti wrote poetry as an honor students at Columbia University. Later she taught at the Methodist college at Rome in the Deparment of Christian Education.

She aided her husband in framing the 17th, 18th and 19th Articles of Freedom in the Italian Constitution following World War II. She also served with her husband, on the Commission for Restoration of Masonic Properties confiscated by Mussolini.

President Antonio Segni of the Italian government congratulated her on the splendid job she did translating the Italian-English agreement.

The couple resides at 3785 Gigliotti drive.

Murder Trial Of L.G. Woman Off 'Til March

SAN DIEGO (CNS) — The murder trial of Mrs. Elena Yvonne (Helen) Paik, 34, 3760 Grove st., has been postponed until March 2 because of the illness of Deputy District Attorney Richard Hanscom.

Mrs. Paik is accused of fatally shooting David R. J. Diaz, 30, of S.D. June 1. Sheriff's deputies said that at the time, she admitted shooting her former boyfriend after he had knocked her down in the kitchen of her home.

She was originally charged with manslaughter but the grand jury then indicted her for murder. Witnesses said Diaz was running away in the street in front of the woman's home when the fatal bullet struck him.

Youth Steals Car Then Wrecks It

A 14-year-old San Diego boy was taken into custody last Thursday after driving a stolen car into a Lemon Grove light pole on Cypress avenue near Madison avenue.

The car, belonging to Rev. Nicholas DeVries of 8442 Parkway, La Mesa, was completely destroyed, California Highway Patrol officers said.

The accident took place at 11:30 a.m. shortly after the car had been taken, a patrolman said.

The 14-year-old boy was not reported injured but a 15-year-old passenger in the car was treated for minor injuries by a doctor, it was reported.

INCORPORATION MOVE HERE GETS C OF C ENDORSEMENT

The Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce endorsed the current incorporation movement Tuesday and selected a committee to aid the proponents in getting signatures on petitions.

Lemon Grove Attorney Frank Armstrong, leading proponent of the movement, told the directors at the regular monthly meeting Tuesday that 1,500 signatures of the needed 2,572 had already been acquired without organized aid.

"I believe we will successfully incorporate if we can bring it to an election," he told the board. "If we don't succeed we will be part of the city of La Mesa or San Diego within the next few years," he warned.

President Sam Pernicano then appointed Automan Bill Dawson to head the chamber committee on incorporation and announced that the chamber would be recipient in trust for funds for bringing the issue to a vote.

Gets Extension

Armstrong also announced that the County Board of Supervisors had that day granted a 30 day extension for gathering necessary signatures. Prior to new legislation by which a super agency was created to decide on incorporation proponents had a year to circulate petitions, Armstrong said. Now petitioners are granted 120 days with renewal required every 30 days.

The extension expires February 18, but additional extensions may be requested, each for 30 days, he added.

In other action the Chamber accepted with appreciation the offer of the Southland Savings to forgive the rent on the Chamber's office on Main st. the last six months of 1964. Rent at $100 a month will be charged through June, however.

Don Johns, chamber veep and chairman of the Merchants Division awarded prizes to the top three winners in the Best Christmas Window Decoration contest. Leon Bolton of McMahan's accepted top prize; Lewis Brouillard was not able to attend the meeting to accept second place, and Evelyn Slocum was handed third prize for the windows at Linda's.

Don Johns also announced a Lemon Grove Safety Campaign which will have the co-operation of the California Highway Patrol. Five testing elements will be set up on a strip on Broadway with stickers being placed on cars meeting certain standards or better.

Solicitations For Retarded Children Not Authorized

The identity of a man using children in an unauthorized fund solicition in the name of Angels Unaware Center, East County Chapter of the San Diego Association for Retarded Children, is being sought by police.

A man using a white pickup truck is reported by El Cajon Police Sgt. Al Brozowski to be soliciting funds. The man apparently hires children to solicit for him giving them ten per cent of the amount collected. One boy said he collected $10 and turned it over to a man who established his headquarters on a market parking lot on N. Magnolia ave. in El Cajon. The boy was given $1 by the man.

The man is described as well dressed, in his early 40's, about 5 ft. 9 inches tall and weighing about 190 lbs.

Angels Unaware has not authorized any fund solicitation. Neither has any of the other Association's Chapters in the San Diego area established a fund drive and these include the Starlight Center in Chula Vista, the Youth Activities Group, 44th street and Marekt and the Child Development Center in Mission Valley. All centers can use help, but it is asked that donors go directly to the center.

Anyone approached by a child, is asked to call police headquarters.

In an authorized solicitation, this newspaper raised needed funds last year for the East County Center.

S.V. BOY'S INJURIES SLIGHT IN FREAK SHOTGUN ACCIDENT

A Spring Valley boy apparently suffered no serious injury although he was struck in the head and back by 55 pellets from a 12-gauge shotgun during a visit to a Lemon Grove drive-in theatre last week on Wednesday.

The boy, 14-year old Donald Chitry of 874 El Kelton blvd., Spring Valley was shot from near point-blank range while he was attending a four-feature bill at the Ace Drive In Theatre, 8015 Imperial ave., Lemon Grove.

Sheriff's men said the blast came from an automatic shotgun accidentally discharged by Scott Sterling Fritz, 17, of Santee. Fritz said the gun discharged when he sat on it. It was lying on the rear seat of the family campster. The pellets ripped through the side of Fritz vehicle and struck Chitry as he was getting into his car two spaces away.

LaVerne Fritz, the boy's father, formerly a gasoline service station operator at Broadway and Buena Vista in Lemon Grove, said that the accident occurred during intermission. He said the youngster had gotten some popcorn, entered the campster and sat down. The campster seat is back-to-back to the driver's seat. As Fritz turned to hand some popcorn through the window facing the driver's compartment, the gun discharged. The pellets passed through the 50-thousandths metal side of the campster vehicle before striking Chitry who was also entering his car. The elder Fritz was not present.

Grossmont hospital officials declared the wounds superficial and released Chitry after first aid treatment.

Fritz said insurance authorities opined that the thickness of the campster's side had averted a fatality. The elder Fritz now operates a filling station at 76th and University.

LM Girl in Satisfactory Condition Following Lemon Grove Accident

A nine-year-old La Mesa girl was reported in satisfactory condition at Grossmont Hospital this week after being struck by a car as she crossed a Lemon Grove street.

The girl, Marilyn Oneida Martin of 3521 Trophy dr., La Mesa, suffered a cerebral concussion Saturday when she was struck by a car turning off Broadway onto Kempf street.

The driver of the car was John Wayne Burnette, 8319 Solana st., San Diego. No citations were issued, the California Highway Patrol reported.

ROBBERY VICTIM — Mrs. Robert Moore, owner of the Lemon Grove Yardage Shop, 7816 Broadway, shows 51-cent piece of material a youth was buying when he robbed her of $40 at knife point. "My first impression was that his mother had sent him on an errand," Mrs. Moore said. The youth then demanded her bills, ordered her to get on the floor and then fled on a bicycle. The robbery occurred just after Mrs. Moore opened her shop Friday morning.

Robber Takes $70 At Knife Point From Station Operator

A knife robbery, the second in two days in Lemon Grove, netted the culprit $70 from the till of Urich's self serve gasoline station Tuesday at 1:15 a.m. The station is at New Jersey and Broadway. The robber, about 26, driving a stolen taxicab, asked night man Charles Wolf of 2034 Hawkins Way, Spring Valley, for permission to use the rest room. Wolf was manning the station alone.

Then, according to Bud Hartney, the station manager who lives at 8891 Ellenwood circle, Spring Valley, the man asked Wolf to check a front tire for a slow leak. While Wolf was humped over the tire, the robber pointed a paring knife at him and demanded money. Wolf started to dig into his own pockets but the robber said he wanted only the money from the till. Wolf, under the point of the knife, opened the cash drawer and handed him the bills. The robber said he didn't want the change.

Gathering up the $70 he led Wolf over to the rest room and warned him to stay in for five minutes to avoid getting hurt.

The robber then shook hands with Wolf and said "I'm sorry, I don't usually do this but I need the money".

He got into the cab and drove west on Broadway.

Sheriff's deputies later found

Service Clubs Are More Than Just Fun For Members

Often service clubs are accused of doing nothing and a few are guilty of such charges.

However, we are always pleasantly surprised by the wide variety of services offered by the clubs in our community in spite of the fact that most clubs are small by the dictates of a comparatively small local population.

These activities belie the belief that service clubs are glad-handing eat-and-belch organizations and we want to lay it on the line right here that there is a sincere and serious undertone to the frivolity that appears on the service club surface.

Let's look at the local Kiwanis as an example. In one of the weekly bulletins (early November) there was an item by bulletin editor Bob Sutton who reported that Dr. Thayer Crow had fined two members for leaving a boxcar full of apples unlocked overnight, subjecting about $3,500 worth of apples to the ravages of predators.

Since the annual Kiwanis apple sale is the club's major fund raising activity you'd think that the apple-watchers are idiots. Such charges are usually thought up on the spur of the moment and lend spice to service club life. It is more than likely that the members charged by Dr. Crow didn't even have a part in the guarding of the apples.

So much for the lighter side. In the same bulletin there were six items which better represent the largest of the clubs. The Kiwanis club in October, the bullitin reported:

Donated $250 for specialty uniforms for students at Mt. Miguel high school;

Donated $250 for choir robes for two L.G. junior high school choirs;

Authorized paying the cost of dental treatment for a needy local family;

Set up $85 campship fund at Camp Palomar for sixth graders at a local school;

Budgeted $200 for the American Field Service program (foreign exchange students) at Mt. Miguel high school.;

Purchased full-page advertisement in program for Kiwanis basketball tourney.

Service clubs are not charity organizations but even if they were, the Kwanis club would not have to apologize for its generosity.

as a man thinks . . .

We're just beginning to realize how true it is that a man's thinking determines his life. Yet it was many years ago when the Bible proverb was written, "As he thinketh in his heart, so is he." This is one reason why prayer is so important. Prayer helps to bring our thoughts under the controlling power of God — to give us "the mind of Christ." You're invited to hear a one-hour public lecture on this subject by William Milford Correll or The Christian Science Board of Lectureship. Title: "Your Thinking Determines Your Experience." Everyone is welcome to come and listen.

"PROSPECT"

There is a let-down following the Christmas and New Year holidays. Business needs a shot in the arm to get through these days. God never needs a stimulant to remain active in our behalf. Regardless what the earthly conditions may be, His love shines steady and constant toward us.

Where to Store Peanuts is Problem Faced by 21 Camp Fire Volunteers

Where to store their share of more than 100,000 cartons of Camp Fire Girls peanuts is the problem faced this week by 21 San Diego County Camp Fire volunteers including Mrs. Robert Reif of 2612 Massachusetts ave., Lemon Grove.

According to Emery Morrison, general chairman of the 1964 Peanut Sale, the leaders have volunteered their homes as distribution centers for the Peanut Sale which is scheduled to begin Jan. 17 and end Feb. 2.

Delivery of the nuts will be made on January 15 and they will be picked up by area Camp Fire Girls, Blue Birds, Junior Hi Camp Fire Girls and Horizon Club members the next day.

The distribution centers are strategically located throughout the County to afford access to the peanut supply for all of the more than 5,000 girls who will be participating in the 1964 sale. Money from the Peanut Sale is used to provide capital improvements for camps in the County--Wolahi in the Cuyamacas and Cahito in Balboa Park, as well as a new primitive site near Poway.

The DIMMER VIEW

1964 and you are going to turn in items of interest to this newspaper until a replacement comes in 1965.

Meanwhile, you and the editor of this newspaper are going to be in regular contact. These contacts usually are pleasant. Occasionally they are not. They need never be anything but pleasant if a few simple rules are followed.

First, meet by telephone or in person, the reporter who will be handling your material. Ascertain the deadline for your copy and acknowledge that you understand that your material must get in by that time (preferably before) to be eligible for the next issue of the paper.

Then as you write (preferably typewritten, double or triple spaced) it, keep it short and snappy. Of course we want you to write as much as you need to tell us the news, but colorful stuff based on personal opinion will end up in the wastebasket. Let's face it, most club meetings are fairly routine and no amount of superlative will make it anything else. Be content with reporting the facts and bear in mind that the editor must produce the material as a story that may be read by many readers. Test your story by asking if you would read it if it were some other club.

Make your story crisp and accurate. Editors often read the first paragraph carefully and skim the rest of the stuff. So make the first paragraph (or "lead") factual and informative.

The five famous W's will give you the best guide to writing an acceptable story: Who, What, Where, When, and Why.

Who: East San Diego County Woman's Convention.
What: Regular monthly meeting.
Where: Cafeteria, Mt. Miguel High School.
When: Saturday, January 25, 1964, 7:30 p.m.
Why: Election of officers.

With the material organized, it is now a simple task to write a news release in conventional form:

"The East San Diego County Woman's Convention will elect officers at its regular monthly meeting to be held Friday, January 25, at 7:30 p.m. in the cafeteria of Mt. Miguel high school."

Then you may add a slate of candidates and list the term the new officers will serve, or any other factual or interesting material that might be of general interest.

Now you are ready to turn the story in if it has been written on good, white 8½x11 paper and your name and telephone number is in the upper left hand corner.

Check it over quickly to see if you have designated a.m. or p.m., whichever is applicable, and that two initials or the first names of the persons about whom you are writing are listed.

Since you have already asked the editor how far in advance he wants your story, you don't have a deadline problem. Most editors are prejudice against carbon copies. If the story is worth printing it's worth typing as an original.

If a picture is desired, by all means check first and see if the editor feels there is enough newsworthiness in a photograph. If the editor doesn't seem to get as enthusiastic about the enormity of the event as you, remember, he views his newspaper as being read by others than the group you represent and he wants to present your story in as crisp enough form that non-members may want to read and understand what you are saying.

In any event, the editor attempts to be neutral and fair. If he rejects a picture or cuts your story, it is not because of any personal feelings . . . except for the feelings he has for the entire family of readers who subscribes to his publication.

Equally important, the newspaper reporter or editor will help you get the story in rather than try to keep it out because that's what a newspaper is: news.

Finally, a personal message to the persons who give your club valuable publicity will be appreciated more than you realize. Take a moment and write a couple of lines of a "thank you" note . . . but be sure to tell who, what, where, when and why.

To Cook A Frog

It is impossible to kill a frog by dropping it into boiling water, according to an editorial piece in the monthly publication of the California Taxpayers' Association.

The frog reacts so quickly to the harsh treatment that it jumps out before being hurt.

It is possible to do in the frog with the warm water method, the publication avers. Put the frog in a pan of cold water — then warm it up slowly. The frog is not alarmed by the gradual increase of heat and by the time it decides it really must jump it's too late. It's cooked.

Federal bureaucrats have been using this frog-cooking recipe to expand the control of the central government over the affairs of local communities for decades, the article adds.

They have succeeded, because, like the frog, the gradualism has lulled taxpayers into a false sense of security. When full realization of their sorry plight comes it is usually too late to do anything about it, the association concludes.

New Policy Eyed on County Sidewalks, Hillside Roads

SAN DIEGO (CNS) — The new San Diego County Technical Road Policy adopted Monday by the Board of Supervisors will eliminate all future "Dictionary Hill road problems", according to David K. Speer, county surveyor and road commissioner.

The new policy for hillside such steep terrain as the Dictionary Hill area in La Presa to development with roads designated as "split level" and "hillside residential".

Speer said the policy which resulted from a committee's efforts over an entire year had "faced up" to the hillside problem for the first time.

In addition to the hillside problem, the committee also made some revolutionary recommendations in handling of walkways for school children along county roads.

Three alternate plans are available where a walkway is needed, but the biggest change opens the way for both school and county participation in the costs of such work. In the past, the county has ruled out such participation.

Under the new policy, the county would be able to provide materials for a walkway where no grading was required.

The new policy fo Hillside roads will allow for two one-way streets on hills with different elevations separating the two. Each street will include a parkway strip, parking lanes, travel way and turning lane necessary for a normal street.

Supervisor David W. Bird described the new proposal for school walkways as "wishful thinking". He said he did not believe the schools would participate in the cost of such development, "because they are just as hard up as we are".

In other action, the Board reaffirmed action taken last August to increase classified salaries by 2.75 per cent after hearing presentations by President William Melton and Chairman of the Salary and Classification Committee Ima Jo Burgreen requesting consideration of a 5.6 per cent increase which had previously been granted to the teachers of the district. Conparative schedules were not available but will be considered by the Board before the adoption of schedules for next year.

A report on administrative staffing and administrative salary schedules was taken under study by the Board for action at a later date.

In other action, the Board directed the Grossmont Chapter of the A.F. of T., attempting to make a presentation on certain goals, to confer with the administration and the other teacher organization in an effort to establish operating principles for presenting teacher viewpoints to the Board.

The Board reaffirmed its policy of naming high schools for historical/geographical designations after receiving a request that the eighth high school in Santee be named for the late president. John F. Kennedy.

Resists Washington

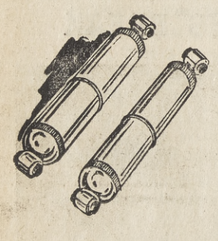

In response to a request from the El Cajon Junion Women's Club for support of legislation in Washington prohibiting testing and questionnaires involving confidential family information without parents' consent the Board agreed that the intent of the legislation seems to be in line with the policy and practice in the Grossmont District but emphatically opposed legislation at the national level. The Board indicated its belief that such matters should be left to local boards of education and that, if this was not sufficient, the matter could be covered by state legislative action.

DMV To Collect Auto Use Tax

A new duty assigned to the Department of Motor Vehicles by a 1963 legislative act is the collection of a California use tax on motor vehicles purchased in California from persons not licensed as automobile dealers, or purchased outside of the state.

Department registration officials are alerting former nonresidents who have driven their cars in California for periods of up to a year with valid out-of-state plates that the use tax may be payable when they apply for California registration in 1964.

"The department collects the use tax as agent for the State Board of Equalization," Tom Bright, director of motor vehicles, said today in releasing an explanation of motorists' obligations under this law. "In effect since October 1, 1963, the new use tax provisions have a wider spread than was formerly the case. They now apply to private transactions in which an individual buys a motor vehicle from a seller not licensed by the State of California as a dealer or wrecker. But the law declares no tax is owed when the seller certifies that he has not sold any other vehicle at retail in the 12 months preceding the purchase."

Bright said that the department can supply a form to be signed by the seller, and to be filed by the buyer at the time he applies for DMV registration or transfer of ownership. The form, called "certification of the seller", affirms that the seller has made no other retail sale of a motor vehicle during the preceding 12 months.

The rate of the use tax is the same as that of the sales tax — four per cent of the measure of tax.

Bright said DMV employees have been directed to help motorists become acquainted with the new provisions of the law, and to accept fees to protect applicants from penalties that increase the amounts due when the taxes or fees become delinquent.

The law lodges final authority to deterfine whether the tax is owed with State Board of Equalization.

Auto Registration Now In Progress

The annual renewal period for vehicle registration is underway and vehicle owners may pay fees and obtain 1964 registration without penalty until Feb. 4.

Tom Bright, director of motor vehicles, expects owners of about 9.5 million autos, trucks, trailers, motorcycles and other vehicles to apply for 1964 registration.

Registration renewal statements were mailed to motorists last month. On payment of fees, the stub of the renewal statement card is validated and becomes a 1964 registration card. The Department of Motor Vehicles also will issue white refectorized stickers, which are to be affixed to the upper left corner of rear license plates.

Registration renewal service is available at DMV's 144 field offices, at more than 150 banks cooperating with the department during the renewal period, and at auto clubs handling registeration renewal for their members.

"Bank stations can renew registrations only if the owners present the punched renewal card," Bright said. Motorists who do not recieve cards in the mail should go to their regular DMV offices."

Bright said that owners may also renew their vehicle registrations by mailing the punched card statements, along with fees, according to directions on the backs of the cards.

JOURNEY with JILL

THROUGH THE SUBURBS

Yours truly has been busy this past week getting acquainted with more new business firms. The rewarding part of the job of being a conversational advertising columnist is the pleasure one derives from making new friends, primarily; next in line is the fun in discovering new things in the shops and finding all the bargains. Needless to say, I am putting miles on my shoe leather so let me tell you first about a repair shop I found.

JOE SHOE SERVICE at 7876 BROADWAY in Lemon Grove (ten years in the same location) does fine work at a low price. Orthopedic work and changing ladies heel styles or repairing broken ones are among his specialties. He uses quality materials and guarantees his workmanship. Phone HO 9-8454.

A friend of mine suggested I stop in to get acquainted with BOB NELSON, your Hometown Dealer, who has the finest quality used cars available at 5030 EL CAJON BLVD. John Garrett, sales representative for Bob, showed me many fine cars on the lot, most of which can be purchased by just taking over the monthly payments, and credit can easily be cleared by phone . . . These fellows are really nice to talk to, so if you need, or want to buy or trade . . . they have a car to fit your need and budget. Give them a call!

As I eat most of my meals in restaurants I'm finding some wonderful places and excellent food. One of these days I'll find the managers in and get their permission to tell you about some of them. See you around town.

Jill

AFRICAN MAHOGANY — Noel Tweed inspects a piece of Okoume hardwood that is to be used in Monte Vista Lodge, a Lemon Grove retirement development now under construction. By the time the wood reached Tweed's firm in La Mesa, it had been shipped more than 13,000 miles. The wood is from French Equatorial Africa.

Exotic Mahogany to be Used In Local Retirement Home

Noel Tweed, president of the board of directors at Monte Vista Lodge and partner in the La Mesa planing firm of Tweed and Gambrel, contracted with the local office of the Georgia-Pacific Corporation to procure enough Okoume hardwood to construct 150 7 x 8 foot folding doors.

The exotic mahogany from French Equatorial Africa will be made into folding doors for installation at Monte Vista Lodge, a state-licensed retirement facility presently under construction at 2211 Massachusetts in Lemon Grove.

The 150 foot high Okoume trees were felled in the interior and floated down river to the African West Coast. They were then shipped to Israel where the five-foot thick logs were rotary cut and made into laminated sheets.

"We were attracted by the unique coloring of Okoume," Tweed explained. "It finishes out to a salmon pink, which we felt would fit well with the overall color coordination we have in mind for the Lodge."

"It's also probably one of the hardest light weight woods in the world." he said. "The doors in which it will be used are actually room dividers. They will provide partitions between the living areas in the apartments and the kitchenettes. We wanted something that would stand up well in addition to being attractive."

The Georgia-Pacific Company arranged to have the material sent from Israel to the port of San Diego. By the time the material was delivered to the Tweed & Gambrel firm, it had been transported more than 13,000 miles.

When completed, Monte Vista Lodge will house 260 residents in apartments of varying sizes on a 7¾ acre tract in Lemon Grove. Model apartments are expected to be available for inspection in February. The 18 dwelling units, two dining rooms, infirmary, swimming pool and putting green are scheduled for completion next June.

Dale Naegle, A.I.A., and Associates are the architects and Riha Construction Co., the general contractors.

WATER DEVELOPMENT — Map shows general location of water development projects being built in the decade of the 1960's, the greatest conservation construction period of a century of California's history. The Federal Government, the State of California and local agencies are building to meet the challange of the state's soaring population.

State Water Development Reaches Peak in 1960's

by William E. Warne

(This is the second of a series of six articles on California water development by the Director of the California State Department of Water Resources, who has administered resources development programs for state, federal and international government since 1935.)

SACRAMENTO — For sheer volume of construction, the decade of the 1960's marks the crescendo of a century of water development in California.

With the federal government and the State of California engaged in elaborate projects, local agencies are tackling one river system after another along the eastern side of the Central Valley.

The Sacramento Municipal Utility District has nearly completed an initial complex of dams, tunnels, and and powerhouses on the Rubicon and the South Fork of the American River and is starting work on additional facilities to complete an overall comprehensive system.

The Oroville-Wyandotte Irrigation District has completed a somewhat similar project on the South Fork of the Feather River.

The Nevada Irrigation District has started a similar complex of projects in the Bear and Yuba River Basins. The Placer County Water Agency has brought to tow a program for the Middle Fork of the American River.

The Yuba County Water Agency is preparing a complex development on the North Fork Yuba River, and the Yolo County Water Agency is planning a development across the Central Valley on the North Fork Cache Creek.

The East Bay Municipal Utility District is completing Camanche Reservoir on the lower Mokelumne River. Operation of this reservoir will provide flood control downstream and will permit increased diversions of water to satisfy the districts' needs.

The federal government has nearly completed New Hogan Reservoir on the Calaveras River to provide downstream flood control and local water supplies.

The City of San Francisco, in partnership with the Modesto and Turlock Irrigation Districts, has applied to the Federal Power Commission for enlargmeent of the existing Don Pedro Dam and Reservoir on the Tuolumne River.

The Merced Irrigation District has plans for enlargement of its Exchequer Dam and Reservoir on the Merced River. The Southern California Edison Company has expanded is facilities on the San Joaquin River with completion of Mammoth Dam.

A number of smaller foothill projects are either under construction or in the advanced planning stage. These include Stumpy Meadows Reservoir on Pilot Creek, Camp Far West Project on the lower Bear River. Virginia Ranch Dam Project on French Dry Creek, Jackson Valley Project on Dry Creek, Lakeport Reservoir on Scotts Creek, Middletown Reservoir in the Upper Putah Creek Basin, and Squaw Hollow Reservoir of the El Dorado Irrigation District.

Behind these programs are severals other major projects that are advancing through the planning stages. These include Auburn-Folsom South Project, Nashville Reservoir on the Consumnes River, New Melones Reservoir on the Stanislaus River, Marysville Reservoir on the Lower Yuba, and the West Side Sacramento Valley Canal. Additional possibilities include Cache Creek development, the North Fork Stanislaus River, and Middle Fork Feather River revelopments.

It is notable that this construction is concentrated in a band across the State opposite and north of San Francisco Bay. South of this band, development has already occurred largely because of the earlier impact of the growth of population in those areas. It is within this band of counties from Calaveras to Butte that the hard blows of demand are now falling.

Local waters have been rather fully developed south of this band. Some costly projects were omitted from the first round of development and were brought in after growth had advanced quite far. The first wave, however, has passed these areas.

Along with the progression of water development northward as population fills the State, very great projects of interbasin and transregional character are called upon to reach farther and farther for supplemental water for areas that have grown beyond local supplies.

The diversion by the Bureau of Reclamation of the Trinity River into the Sacramento Valley as a part of the Central Valley Project and the State Water Project designed to move Feather River water 700 miles into the most southerly counties are but the latest examples of transbasin water developments. Los Angeles reached into the Owens Valley 50 years ago. San Francisco went to Hetchy Valley a little later. The East Bay communities crossed the San Joaquin Valley to the Mokelumne River for their needed water as they grew. The metropolitan area of Southern California built an aquaduct to the Colorado River more than 20 years ago.

Observing this irreversible pattern of growth, the Legislature took two actions — one, to guard the counties of origin which have been late to feel the impact of development so that waters needed by them can be reserved; and the other, to develop on a comprehensive basis the waters needed in far-flung regions of the State during the coming 30 years.

The State Water Project, which was authorized for this latter purpose, must observe the county of origin protection law. Its use of waters, just as those of other projects of local agencies, must be certified by the California Water Commission as being in conformance with the comprehensive California Water Plan. Also, in the bonding program established by the Burns-Porter Act, $130,000,000 was set aside for assistance to local projects with the developing counties of origin principally in mind.

The local assitance program under the Davis-Grunsky Act is advancing right along with the construction of the facilities of the State Water Project. The 1963 Legislature authorized almost $30,000,000 in recreation grants to local projects, mostly chosen from among those mentioned above.

Under the lash of necessity, being applied by the arrival of 600,000 or more new citizens each year in California, the State has adopted programs and local agencies are utilizing earlier plans to meet the challenge of the decade of the 1960's on a grand scale.

Ahead in the decades nearer the turn of the next century, this moving necessity will bump against the Siskiyous and turn full force into the streams of the North Coastal region, the Eel, the Trinity and the Klamath.

Events have a habit of telescoping time, and some of this may come soon, rather than late. But it is the decade of the 1960's which is immediately at hand, and we are working our way through it building dams in a dozen rivers and excavating canals that stretch over hundreds of miles

"Gracious Living With Modern Appliances" will be the theme for our twice-a-month cooking schools this year and we hope you will plan on joining us as often as possible.

To begin the year we will help you with your Mexican food by covering the fundamentals of Mexican cooking and show you how to prepare special dishes.

"La Cocina Mexicana" will be the theme of our January programs. You are invited to join us Tuesday, Jan. 14, from 12:30 to 2 p. m. in the comfortable auditorium of San Diego Gas & Electric Company's Eastern District Office at 104 North Johnson Street in El Cajon. The program will be repeated Tuesday, Jan. 28, from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

We will explain how to prepare basic Mexican foods including Tortillas, Tacos and the staple Mexican soup —Menudo. We think you will especially enjoy preparing special Taco dinners like Tacos de Crema (tacos with sour cream).

Also, we will prepare the favorite steak dish — Carne Asada. We'll teach you how to cook Frijoles and to make Colache (the vegetable dish of squash, corn, tomatoes and onion). And, of course, we will prepare Guacamole salad and Chile Rellenos. For dessert, we will try Empanadas—the light pastry shell filled with whatever you prefer; we'll use a custard. We will also do other chicken and beef main dishes.

Join us won't you. Admission is free and there will be free door prizes.
